A great book for my classroom library. Some creepy short reads for personal reading time.

received my copy through Goodreads Contest

I can honestly say this is one of the best young-adult gruesome stories I've ever read. Each story, being completely different had a subtle moral hidden within. They were delightfully squeamish and definitely made me shudder at the thought.

My favourite has to be "the thing in Jamie's room" - a story where no one believes what you have to say.

I think I shall take this to my class and read it to them, the 10 and 11 year olds will love the stories.

A must read for those who love a bit of slime and yuck!

A true test of a book is you read it within a day of getting it - I shall invest in more books by this Author :)
Thank you for an enjoyable read :)

I won this book through First Reads. The title does it justice. Totally creeped me out! Most stories had me saying, "Ewwwww!" My 9-year-old only made it through the first two stories because it was just too scary for her. This book will definitely put you in a Halloween-ish mood.

This book is a real gem! I loved every one of the stories and will read it over and over again. Not just when I read it with younger readers but because I love the stories myself. My very favorite is A Ghost of a Chance with The Thing in Jamie's Room being a close second, followed closely by This Really Happened and Growing Pains. I might as well list them all because I loved every one of them. If you have (or know) 'tweens, get this book. If you have kids younger than that, get this book. If you don't have any kids but love spooky, eerie, and creepy stories, get this book. The author has a wonderful imagination and creates a unique world in every one of the stories. I cannot recommend it highly enough!

I won this book as a goodreads giveaway. I thoroughly enjoyed reading the stories in this book. Some of the stories reminded of stories I read while growing up. Some of them really made me laugh, like the first story in the book about the worm. Others made me think while others were kind of sad. One story even had a touch of Solvent Green to it that made me hope our future doesn't become like that. I think that there are stories in the book for everybody of all ages.

I loved reading this book so much that I will be bringing it with me when I babysit. One of my favorite stories is Waaz, because it outlines our consumer-centric societal behaviors in a funny and captivating way. The author did a great job conveying morals in his stories. This is a great book for children in late elementary school through middle-school aged.
